Andrea Brabin began her modeling career at the age of seventeen and consequently moved to New York City. Her career lasted eleven years, working in NYC, Paris, London, and Milan.

After her modeling career, she established herself as an art photographer and had her first private show in Reykjavik in 1996, which received rave reviews by critics. That same year, she did her first local casting job in Iceland and shortly after that she formed her modeling and casting agency.

Today, Eskimo Casting is the biggest casting and modeling agency in Iceland, and it holds a database hosting more than 17.000 individuals and therefore is the only one of its kind in Iceland.

As a casting director, Andrea is one of the most experienced in Iceland, having worked on many of the biggest Hollywood films that have been filmed in Iceland. Her career spans over twenty five years and her focus has been on casting films and television, both for the local market as well as the Hollywood production service jobs.
